Under the guided leadership of Dr Keshav Badaya, Secretary, St. Wilfred's Education Society and Chancellor of Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj University csmu, the conference was organised by Prof. (Dr) Shubhi Lall Agarwal, Convener and Director SWCCS.

Dr Sudha Subramaniam, an ardent researcher with IIT Mumbai and Various NGOs was the judge for the event. Alongside, Dr Seshanwita Das was a reviewer and online judge.

Best Papers presented by Staff and Students

Ms. Gayatri Pallan, Assistant Professor #swccs was adjudged with the best paper award on the topic 'Secure Digital Twin of Galaxy Cluster with AI and Cybersecurity for cosmological Research'. The paper was adjudged as a global research and recommended by the judges for further research and development with bigger bodies like ISRO for better understanding of space.

Ms. Amna Shipra, Assistant Professor #swccs on the topic ‘AI Augmented Ethical Hacking: A Collaborative Framework for Cybersecurity Enhancement’. The paper proposes a Collaborative Deep Learning (CDL) Framework that combines Artificial Intelligence and human ethical hacking to make cybersecurity testing faster, more accurate, and more ethical.

A very relevant research work in cyber security was presented by Mr. Sarvesh Pingulkar Student of Second Year MCA in swccs on the topic ‘Security in Cloud Computing’. The paper discusses secured testing techniques for cloud and monitoring of data logs.

A very relevant research work in cyber security was presented by SIDDHARTH DABHADE Student of Second Year MCA in #swccs on the topic 'Need of Cyber Security in AI powered Smart Home Devices'.

The paper shows a need of Cyber Security through the primary data collection and the crux of the paper is that though more and more people are rushing towards AI powered smart home devices but cyber security is a critical challenge and open issue that must be addressed for the successful development and user adoption of AI-powered smart homes.
